Dr. Timothy A. Raines Presents a Webinar, "Empowering Mentorship for Diverse Doctoral Students: Culturally Informed Strategies"

Participants of this interactive webinar - presented by dynamic Inclusion and Belonging Coach and Consultant Timothy A. Raines, Ph.D. on Friday, November 22, 2024, at 11 a.m. EST - will explore culturally informed strategies to enhance their mentorship skills, focusing on supporting doctoral students from historically under-recognized groups.

Grounded in the Culturally Aware Mentorship (CAM) model, the webinar will delve into key approaches for recognizing and valuing cultural differences, emphasizing the strengths that diverse perspectives bring to academic mentorship. Mentors will gain insights into navigating cultural nuances and fostering a sense of belonging, and participants will leave equipped with practical tools to promote inclusive mentoring practices, building stronger mentor-mentee relationships that enhance their mentees' academic and professional growth.

Dr. Raines is committed to guiding individuals and organizations on their journey toward authenticity, inclusivity, and thriving communities. With a rich background as a scientist, equity educator, and advocate for positive change, he champions environments where every individual feels valued and empowered. Driven by his passion for fostering inclusive spaces, he has dedicated his career to mentoring and coaching others, creating brave spaces where everyone can thrive.

We look forward to you joining us!
