

EVENT

Celebrating NICHD's 50th Anniversary

EVENT DETAILS

When?

SUNDAY, JULY 1, 2012 5:00PM TO SUNDAY, JULY 1, 2012 7:00PM

Where?

Washington, D.C.

Hosted by

The Friends of NICHD in cooperation with The Bipartisan Disabilities Caucus and Rep. Gwen Moore, Co-Chair, Congressional Caucus for Women's Issues

On July 12, 2012, SRCD sponsored an exhibit for a congressional reception and science exhibition celebrating 50 years of research progress at the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD).

SRCD featured research: Enhancing Communication Skills in Young Children with Autism by Connie Kasari, Ph.D., University of California, Los Angeles

Resources from the Exhibition

- Event invitation and Exhibitors

Connie Kasari (left), an SRCD member from the University of California, Los Angeles, with Martha Zaslow (middle), Director of SRCD's Office for Policy and Communications, and Sarah Mandell (right), SRCD Office for Policy and Communications

Connie Kasari (right) engages with Alan Guttmacher (center), NICHD Director, and Peggy McCardle (left), NICHD Child Development & Behavior Branch Chief

Congresswoman Rosa DeLauro (center right), U.S. Representative for Connecticut's 3rd Congressional District, speaks with Alan Guttmacher (center left), Yvonne Maddox (right), Deputy Director of NICHD, and Karen Studwell (left), American Psychological Association